"Try 'im," said Hanks indifferently. "Who tried me, I wonder? I had to shift for myself, an' if I've accumulated anything it has been by my own efforts. If anybody had set me up in business at that boy's age I'd never been with a bill o' beans."

"Yes, an' you didn't start out with as much agin you as Bob has," answered the cotton buyer. "You wasn't constantly surrounded by folks tellin' you yore old scrub of a daddy was goin' to die an' leave you a whole lot o' money, an' hold on, I'm not through"—as Hanks was about to speak—"an' a whole community tellin' you you mustn't lay yore hands to menial labor. Yore daddy, from what I hear, made you pull a boll cord over a mule's back tell you was twenty-one, an' when you finally rized to the dignity of the junk shop you used to keep, you considered yourself in high G. Why, they say you never wore shoes tell you put 'em on to vote in. They say a stranger put up at Lib's house one night, Mr. Hillyer, an' Lib was standin' up before the fire wavin' hissef. All at once Lib's mammy said, 'Henry, that's a cool o' fer under yore foot, an' Lib looked up, as lazy then as now, an' asked, in his slow way, 'Which foot, ma?'"

Hillyer smiled, but Hanks simply grunted indifferently and began to look over a packet of papers which he took from his pocket. Jake came in to tell Kenner that some cotton wagons were driving up, and Kenner started out, laughing good naturedly. At the door he paused, and, coming back, he leaned on the back of a chair toward Hanks. "You know how to take my fun, Lib," he said, just a touch of apology in his tone. "You see, I used to have jest sech a gang as Bob's society crowd to contend with." Kenner laughed. It was plain he had more to say in spite of the pressure of business.

"When I growed up it was wuss, if anything, than now. It was jest after the war, when nobody had anything to put on style with, an' everybody wanted to make a good show to keep from lookin' beat. Among the young men in this place that was some of us that jest naturally would work, an' a pile of 'em that didn't seem to know how, an' us that knowed how seemed to keep up the rest, fer they was eternally a-borrowin' our cash an' never dreamin' o' repayin' it. I remember that was one young feller, Fred Dinslow, that kept my pocket change down to low ebb. It went on so long that I got to prayin' over it, an' finally I got the courage to put my foot down. I kept tellin' 'im I didn't have it. He knowed I did, an' so did I, but I could tell 'im that better'n anything else, because he hated to dispute my word, as bad as I hated to refuse 'im my wages. Me 'n' him was a-roamin' together, an' one day a nigger, Alf Hardin, begun to banter me to sell 'im a light overcoat I was about through with, an' I laid it out fer 'im. Well, Fred noticed it a-lyin' out on the table, an' axed me what I was a-goin' to do with it. I told 'im I was a-goin' to sell it to Alf Hardin. Me 'n' Fred was a-lyin' smokin' on the bed, an' he got up all at once an' put the coat on an'

—for I know you will understand my fix—I was on a trade with A. C. Sandford, up the street, for his grocery store. Sandford's wife has got Indian blood in her an' she's entitled to land in the territory. He wants to move out there and quit here. I've looked in to his books an' his trade, an' he's got a good thing—a thing that could be built up till it would pay big. He's got old foggy ways an' hasn't kept up to date, an' I believe money can be made in this town according to late methods. Well, when I heard he was thinking of selling out I had a talk with him. I told him I had no money, but if he'd sell the stock to me on time I'd pay him. Well, that pleased him and his wife, too, fer they are anxious to get away, and we even took stock. It invoiced about $2,000, an' he doesn't owe a cent in market, but somehow my father got wind of it, an', Lord, the row he raised over it! He made me go out in the yard an' cut wood all that morning, an' he went down to Sandford and said so much against me that Sandford backed clean out."

Hillyer stared for a moment at George, who was listening, and then he looked at Bob. "Are you twenty-one?" he asked.

"I was last July, Mr. Hillyer."

"Then you are yore own boss?"

"I reckon I am, as far as age goes," said Bob, with a good natured smile, "but my credit doesn't seem to amount to much."

"Bob"—Hillyer was not looking at him—"you must not lose that chance. It's a good one, and I believe you can run the business. I believe it's in you. You are interested in it, an' that's the chief thing."

"Thank you, Mr. Hillyer. I like to hear you say that, but I don't much blame father. I haven't been living just like he wanted me to, and I have thought seriously of getting away from this town. It's pretty hard to do the right thing surrounded by a gang like I've been in—a crowd that thinks it beneath a fellow to work."

"They wouldn't laugh at you if you were the proprietor o' that grocery," said Hillyer. "Look here, Bob; I've got a lot o' money lent out on a sight wuss security than yore word, an' if you'll give me yore note for two thou-stood lookin' at hissef in the bureau glass. He'd turn fust one way an' then another, like a woman dressin' fer a picnic, an' then he said: 'It fits me like a glove, Jim. How much is Alf goin' to give you fer it? 'Five dollars,' said I. Fred screwed about at the glass a minute longer, an' then he said, 'Dern if I don't give you fiver fer it; it's jest what I want.' Well, that I was, a born southern gentleman, an' a room mate was axin' to be preferred over a nigger, an' not a cink'nur sight o' coin anywhars around. 'Well, says I, after one o' my silent prayers fer fresh light, 'I'll let you have it, Fred, but I'm needin' the money right now, I'm needin' it fer a particular purpose, that's the reason I'm sellin' the coat. I'm needin' it powerful bad.' 'Oh,' said he, as he took off the coat an' put it in his trunk, 'I'll give the money fer you. I'm expectin' some next Monday.' I knowed then that I was done, an' dyne brown, but I didn't know my crust was burnt to a cinder. The next day was Sunday, an' a nigger baptizin' day, an' in the black procession headed fer Mill Creek I seed Alf Hardin among the elect, on his way to be baptized, with my overcoat on. It was a solemn occasion, but I was mad. I stopped Alf an' axed 'im whar he got the coat. Marse Fred Dinslow got it to me, sub, he said. 'How much did you pay 'im fer it?' I axed 'im. 'Five dollars, sub,' said Alf; 'he tried to git six, but I didn't have it.' At another time, Fred—but I see that cotton wagon out in front, an' I've got to git a move on me."

Hillyer was alone in the office when Bob Hanks and George came in, flushed and hot, their talk finished.

"You are the right kind, George," the old man heard Bob saying, in a grateful tone, "and I'm not going to forget it either."

"Pshaw!" Buckley said, "it was exactly what I needed to set my blood in circulation. I get the cramp sittin' on that stool."

Bob went to the wash pan in the corner of the room and cleansed his hands of the brine and salt. Hillyer called him when he had finished.

"Say, Bob," he said, "come sit down here." The old man indicated a chair near his desk. The young man obeyed wonderingly.

"Bob," began the merchant, "I believe I'm yore friend an' that I have yore interest at heart."

"Well, I've always thought you treated me decently, Mr. Hillyer. I was just tellin' George out there in the car that I could work like a steam engine for a man like you. Mr. Hillyer, I may look like a pretty tough specimen, but I'll give you my word that I am sick and tired of living like I am. That's God's truth."

"What sort o' work do you think you would like, Bob?" Hillyer could not suppress the round note of sympathy that dominated his voice.

"It may seem very silly to you," Bob declared slowly, "but I am just as sure that I could run a business fer myself as I am that I'm sittin' here talkin' to you. To make a clean breast of it

Plan to Establish Western Headquarters Vias Frustrated.

New York, Aug. 9.—The national Democratic executive committee was in session five hours yesterday. The location of national headquarters was fixed at No. 1 West Thirty-fourth street, consisting of the second, third floors and the basement of the Century building. It was determined not to open branch headquarters in the West, or to name additional committees for the present. Plans of organization were taken up and thoroughly mapped out. The statement was made that the session was harmonious and the conclusions were reached without discord. Chairman Taggart denied that the decision not to establish branch headquarters in the West at present was due to any differences about location, or because he had suggested Indianapolis in preference to Chicago. Senator Gorman was not at the meeting. There has been some doubt as to Mr. Taggart's connection with the executive committee, but the meeting yesterday seemed to recognize the chairman, the vice chairman and the secretary as members.

A GREAT DISASTER

Wreck of World's Fair Flyer In Colorado Was an Awful Thing.

NEARLY 100 VICTIMS

When the Denver & Rio Grande Train Plunged Through the Bridge There Was No Escape.

But Four Persons Out of the Crowded Coaches Live to Tell the Story.

Pueblo, Col., Aug. 9.—The wreck of the World's Fair Flyer on the Denver & Rio Grande near Eden, seven miles north of Pueblo, Sunday evening, proves to have been one of the greatest railroad disasters in the history of the country. Two crowded passenger cars and a baggage car were engulfed in the torrent that tore out a trestle spanning Steel's hollow, otherwise known as Dry creek, and so far as known, only three of the occupants of these cars escaped death. Fortunately two sleeping cars and a diner, completing the train, remained on the track at the edge of the abyss and none of their occupants were killed or injured.

How many perished probably will never be definitely ascertained, for the treacherous sands are drifting over the bodies. Searching for the dead is still in progress. All corpses found were brought to Pueblo and placed in four morgues here. Seventy-six bodies have been recovered and of these fifty have been identified. Bodies were recovered all the way along Fountain river from the scene of the wreck to this city. Two bodies were taken from the stream at First street, Pueblo, more than eight miles from the point where the disaster occurred, and it is probable that some may even be recovered even further down stream.

None of the bodies is badly mutilated, and all are in such condition as to be recognizable. Many identifications have been made by articles found on the bodies, no persons who viewed them recognizing the features. Added to the seventy-six bodies thus far recovered there are more than twenty-five persons missing, this latter being based upon estimates of the number of persons who were seated in the fated cars. The actual number may never be known, as the body of the conductor, who had the tickets in his pocket, has not yet been recovered.

So quietly had the catastrophe been enacted that the occupants of the three cars remaining on the track did not realize that an accident had occurred until they alighted from the train. Then they were utterly powerless to render assistance to the victims, who had disappeared into the rushing waters. The bridge gave way as if it had been a stack of kindling wood and the locomotive dropped with the hissing of steam thirty feet to the bottom of the arroyo, crosswise to the track. The baggage car, smoking car and chair car followed the locomotive into the stream and were swept away. All the occupants of these cars, save three men, perished, and had not the roof of the chair car burst asunder, none would have escaped. The fireman, as the locomotive went over, was thrown out and, managing to grasp a piece of wreckage from the bridge, floated with that to a curve made by the caving bank and crept out of the water. He ran toward Eden, meeting on the way Operator F. M. Jones and his wife, who had already started up the track. They had seen the headlight of the approaching train a minute before and then had witnessed it disappear with ominous suddenness. The two men ran to where the bridge had been to search for victims of the disaster. When they reached the spot all cries for help had ceased. Relief trains with physicians, wreck and pile-driving outfits and scores of workmen were hurried from the city. The first train from the wreck came in shortly after with J. M. Killin of Pueblo, whose escape was miraculous; H. S. Gilbert, Tony Fisher and Fireman Mayfield. They were four men in the midst of the wreck who escaped. The water tore a zig-zag course across the prairie to a depth of thirty feet in several places. There was but little left of the baggage car—a few rods, a truck or so, and a half-buried iron safe. The great locomotive, the boiler free of the trucks, the cab and tank gone, lies where it fell. A quarter of a mile to the east lay the chair car, windows gone, three-fourths filled with mud and sand. A hundred feet farther on was the smoker, bottom up against a sandbar. A hundred and fifty feet farther on in the bed of the Fountain was the coal-tender of the engine, and from that point on for four or five miles, vestiges of the coaches, the engine and tender stuck up from the bed of the stream or lay along the shore or on the islands. Bodies recovered were identified very slowly, because many of them were those of strangers who had been to the fair at St. Louis, and other Eastern points.

Train Plunged into River.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 9.—A fast freight on the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis road went through an open bridge at Spottsville, Ky., last night, and the crew of eight were drowned. The bridge is swung on a pivot in the center and had been turned previously to the arrival of the train, to admit of the passage of a steamer.

STRUCK BROKEN RAIL
Fast Train on the Vandellia Burned Near Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—Running at the rate of forty miles an hour, an east-bound Vandellia train from St. Louis struck a broken rail at Plainfield, eighteen miles west of this city, late yesterday afternoon, and five coaches left the track and caught fire. Several of the passengers were slightly injured, but none was killed or seriously hurt. The burning cars set fire to the Plainfield grain elevator at the side of the track, which was entirely consumed. The train struck a broken rail at a point near the elevator, and immediately east of the station, where the track runs at the top of a twelve or fifteen-foot embankment. The cars bumped along for some distance before they left the track. The fire came immediately, supposedly from an explosion of gas in the storage tanks. The injured persons were carried into the station, and all the physicians of the little town were summoned to the scene. Indianapolis was appealed to for aid in fighting the fire. An engine and a chemical were placed on cars and hurried to the town. The town has no fire protection.

Many passengers on the train had marvelous escapes from injury, as some of the derailed cars were completely overturned. The injuries consisted mainly of cuts from broken glass and minor bruises.

THE ORDER EFFECTIVE

Union Teamsters Today Take Part in Packinghouse Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—The union teamsters are to be the principal weapon which the labor leaders propose to use to win the stockyards strike. Orders have been issued to drivers of ice wagons to deliver no more ice to butchers who buy of the big packers or to any of the branch houses of the packing plants where the men are now on strike. A list of more than 200 retail dealers who have been buying meat from the so-called trust packers and hauling away with their own wagons has been compiled and, according to the claims of the strike leaders, the ice supply will be cut off from every one of these places. Arrangements have been made to have pickets stationed at all the retail markets which have been placed under the ban of the unions to see that the boycott is enforced to the limit.

This order is a duplication of the one issued last week, but which was never enforced because it had not been sanctioned by the international officers of the teamsters' union. At Cincinnati, where the International Brotherhood of Teamsters is in session, the necessary indorsement of the proposed boycott was given and the belated order was put in force this morning. All the packing plants are operating here with slightly increased forces of workmen.

Three Towns Started.

Bonesteel, S. D., Aug. 9.—When filing began on the Rosebud reservation, about all of the 100 successful entrymen whose privilege it was to make their filings the first day were on hand to make their choice. William McCormick, who held No. 1, filed the quarter section running parallel with the quarter reserved for the town of Roosevelt. Entryman Ruggs, who held No. 2, filed directly beyond McCormick. Three towns, Roosevelt, Burke and Gregory, have been started. There was some excitement for a while, but the sheriff prevented any serious trouble.

Will Gather on Historic Ground.

Washington, Aug. 9.—An army of workmen directed from Washington is now engaged in preparing the ground for the army maneuvers that are to take place between the 5th and 10th of September on the battlefields of Bull Run and Haymarket in Virginia. When the maneuvers are in full blast it is estimated that 25,000 men will be engaged. Of this number 5,000 will be regular soldiers and the remainder state troops.

Clark Will Break the News.

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Carpenters have erected a speaker's stand at Rosemont, from which Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri will formally notify Judge Parker tomorrow of his nomination for the office of president. The platform is situated in the grove above Judge Parker's home. A large crowd is expected to attend the notification ceremonies. The grounds will be open and no visitors will be turned away.

PANIC IN THE PORT

Shanghai Rumor Has It That Gen. Stoessel Has Committed Suicide.

CRISIS IS PRECIPITATED

With Commander at Port Arthur Dead a Panic in Beleaguered Port Has Resulted.

Heavy Firing From That Direction Has Been Heard at Chee-Poo Since Last Night.

Shanghai, Aug. 9.—It is reported here that there are 10,000 sick and wounded persons at Port Arthur and that the Russians are negotiating with the Japanese to send the hospital ship Mongolia away full of sick. It is also reported that Lieutenant General Stoessel (in command of the military forces at Port Arthur) has committed suicide and that panic prevails at Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 9.—There is increasing impatience among all classes for decisive news from Liao Yang. Lieutenant General Sakharoff's report that there has been no change in the Manchurian army's sphere of operations merely adds to the tension, which possibly will continue for some time. There is no telling how much time the notoriously slow and methodical preparations of the Japanese may consume before they are ready to advance on General Kuropatkin's stronghold. Every day's delay gives the Russian commander greater opportunity to fortify or to get away in case he decides to avoid a big battle, though it is not generally thought here that there is much likelihood of his retreating without a decisive fight.

Viceroy Alexieff's dispatch from Mukden communicating official messages from Port Arthur bears out the reported loss of the Japanese protected cruisers Itsukushima and Chiyoda, and indicates considerable activity on the part of the Port Arthur squadron. The care exercised in sending a dredge fleet ahead of the squadron both in leaving and returning to the harbor, is amply vindicated by the loss of one of the pilot boats and is also taken as a guarantee that there will be no further damage to the Russian warships by Japanese mines.

NEARING A CRISIS

Decisive Action Cannot Long Be Deferred at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Aug. 9.—During the last twenty-four hours 200 Chinese and 50 Russian refugees have arrived here from Port Arthur. They almost all left there on Aug. 3. It has been impossible to obtain confirmation of the report of the sinking of Port Arthur of a Japanese cruiser, but that this occurred is not denied, as the vessel is said to have sunk in a place where mines have recently been laid.

Two French newspaper correspondents who made an attempt to reach Port Arthur by junk, saw the Japanese fleet on Aug. 6. They were twice arrested and turned back. They heard nothing of the alleged sinking of a Japanese cruiser. They counted twenty-four vessels of the Japanese fleet ranged in a double semi-circle in front of the harbor.

This last batch of refugees, several of whom witnessed part of three days' fighting of the week before last, say that the Japanese troops are about six miles from the inner forts.

The Japanese are busy endeavoring to work their trenches nearer the fortress. The Russian resistance to these efforts is confined to the use of artillery, which ceaselessly harasses the diggers. The Japanese are said to have sixty guns in position on Wolf's hill and vicinity, and it is evidently their intention to slowly and surely tighten their noose around Port Arthur.

Viceroy Alexieff Reports.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 9.—Viceroy Alexieff reports that in the engagement which took place July 26 off Port Arthur between the Japanese and Russian squadrons three Japanese ships, including a gunboat, were damaged.

Firing Heard at Chefoo.

Chefoo, Aug. 9.—The firing of heavy guns at intervals of one minute has been distinctly heard in the direction of Port Arthur since late last evening, the acoustic conditions of the atmosphere being unusually favorable.

Held Without Bail.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 9.—Sangford Wolf, a farmer living near Mowqua, was arrested yesterday at his home, charged with the murder of Thomas Stringer. The men had been enemies for some time. Both were driving along a road when Wolf, it is alleged, left his buggy and, going to Stringer's vehicle, stabbed him to death with a knife. Wolf was taken to Taylorville, where he waived examination and was held to the grand jury without bail.

Burglars Strike It Rich.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 9.—Burglars entered the home of M. Seitz, a saloon keeper, and secured a rich haul. Mr. Seitz's total loss will aggregate $3,200; between $800 and $900, a diamond worth $400 and three pocketbooks containing $1,900 in notes were taken.

Mrs. Anderson, Jacksonville, Fla., daughter of Recorder of Deeds, West, who witnessed her signature to the following letter, praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—There are but few wives and mothers who have not at times endured agonies and such pain as only women know. I wish such women knew the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a remarkable medicine, different in action from any I ever knew and thoroughly reliable."

"I have seen many cases where women doctored for years without permanent benefit, who were cured in less than three months after taking your Vegetable Compound, while others who were chronic and incurable came out cured, happy, and in perfect health after a thorough treatment with this medicine. I have never used it myself without gaining great benefit. A few doses restores my strength and appetite, and tones up the entire system. Your medicine has been tried and found true, hence I fully endorse it."

Mrs. R. A. ANDERSON, 235 Washington St., Jacksonville, Fla. — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

No other medicine for women has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any substitute.

Felled the Train Wreckers.
Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 9.—An attempt was made to wreck the Atlantic express on the Union Pacific railroad near Alamy station, between Rock Springs and Green River. John Utley, station agent at Alamy, noticing that the lights of the switch were turned the wrong way, started to fix them, when he was fired at from the dark and wounded in the arm. Utley fell to the ground and the would-be train wreckers fled. Utley managed to get to the station and called up Wilkins, the next station west. The Atlantic express was flagged there and the wreck and probable hold-up was thus prevented.

Murder Amused Him.

Fender, Neb., Aug. 9.—George Four Cloud, a full-blooded Winnebago, aged twenty-five, has been held for the murder of Cora Elk, also a Winnebago, the fourth girl he has killed in two years. He started his career by killing a daughter of Mrs. John Hill, aged eighteen, two years ago. Later he murdered Mary Becora, and Lucy Lebon. He had no reason for killing any of them, but apparently amused himself when intoxicated by murdering young girls.

FIDE COX DEAD.

Succumbed to Heart Failure Tuesday Morning.

About noon today Alpha Cox received a telephone message from Petersburg that his brother, Fide Cox, died suddenly about 9 o'clock this forenoon. His failure was the cause of his death and according to later information received he was stricken about 7 o'clock in the morning. He was one of the promoters of the Vincennes and West Baden Traction Line and has been maintaining an office at Petersburg for several months. In this enterprise he had been doing much hard work and it is believed that overwork brought on the attack of heart failure.

Mr. Cox was here with his wife last Sunday and was apparently in robust health then. His death was a great shock to the members of the family.

Fide Cox was born at Taylorsville Jan. 1, 1854, but spent the greater part of his life in the vicinity of Brownstown. For several years past his home had been at Worthington. He leaves a wife and three children—Mrs. Pearl Hinkle, of Worthington, Claude, of Richmond, and Irma who is yet at home. He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Worthington. Mr. Cox had many friends throughout Jackson county.

The arrangements of the funeral will be announced later.

EX SENATOR GEORGE G. VEST, died at his home in Missouri Tuesday morning at the age of 74 years. He was the best known man in public life.

The Unexpected Frequently Happens.

Mr. Oliver Robertson, a well known and highly respected farmer of Hamilton township says: "I had tried everywhere and put on everybody's lenses I came in contact with during the past four or five years, in hopes of finding lenses that would enable me to read, but failed, and was recommended to Mr. and Mrs. Harsch as a last resort."

I have now been reading for the past four weeks and my distant vision is greatly improved, and the lenses seem to get better every day I wear them. I can read with comfort and my general health is constantly improving since the eye strain has been stopped, and I publicly commend Mr. and Mrs. Harsch to all who have eye sight troubles."

We have plenty of patients who daily recommend us thus. Mr. and Mrs. Harsch, Optometrists.

Automobile Fire.

Dr. Carter had an unfortunate and costly experience last evening. He went down to Frank Fiesler's in his automobile and from there he started across to Oscar Carter's. When near the New Driftwood church he discovered that his automobile was afire and the blaze was then coming up close to his feet. The gasoline tank contained nearly five gallons of gasoline which was sufficient to prompt swift action. He stopped the machine at once and when he found it all afire underneath he could do nothing else but get away from it and let it burn. The machine is a total loss except for the iron that was in it. It was valued at $800, but the doctor carried some insurance on it.

Heavy Loss to Farmer.

Monday John Toerney, who lives on Cy Crabb's farm three miles east of Seymour, lost two stacks of wheat and two of oats by fire. About 200 bushels of wheat and about the same amount of oats were consumed. The fire caught from the traction engine that came with the machine to thresh the wheat and oats. The machine was saved from the fire with difficulty.

Coroner's Investigation.

Dr. Kite, deputy coroner, completed the taking of testimony in the investigation of the death of Marion Carpenter today but has not had time to write out his finding yet. There were no new developments brought out by the testimony today.

EXALTED SERVICE

Has Been Rendered to the Country by Republican Leadership.

GOLDEN AGE OF THE REPUBLIC

Has Been the Period Covered by the Party's Period of Supremacy in National Affairs—We Stand at the Morning of a New Century That Is Bright With the Glow of Promise—Senator Fairbanks Delivers a Notable Address on an Historic Occasion.

At the celebration of the semi-centennial of the Republican party, held at Jackson, Mich., on July 6th, Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, candidate for vice president on the Republican national ticket, was one of the distinguished speakers. The able and eloquent address delivered by Indiana's senior senator on this occasion created great enthusiasm among his thousands of hearers. Senator Fairbanks said:

"We are met to commemorate no ordinary event, for here, a half century ago, American patriots solemnly pledged themselves to vindicate the first principles of republican government, to challenge the aggressions of the slave power. Here was issued the second declaration of freedom. Here was taken the initial step which led to the overthrow of slavery and the establishment of the government upon truly national lines. We freely pay the tribute of our grateful appreciation to the memory of those who raised here the standard of Republicanism."

"The Republican party was born of the conscience of the people, and it was here dedicated to as high and holy a service as ever summoned men to heroic duty."

"The appeal to the people of Michigan which was issued by Zachariah Chandler, that stalwart among stalwarts, and his associates, was like a clarion call to exalted service. It was conceived in the same spirit which inspired our fathers in the morning of the American revolution. The resolutions here adopted were put upon a high plane. Differences of individual opinion upon all other subjects of state or domestic policy were subordinated to the one overmastering question of the hour. It was solemnly resolved, that, postponing and suspending all differences with regard to political economy or administrative policy, in view of the imminent danger that Kansas and Nebraska will be grasped by slavery, we will act cordially and faithfully in union to avert and repeal this gigantic wrong and shame."

"Thus consecrated, the Republican party was here christened, and sent forth to accomplish a more vital mission than ever challenged the consideration of the people since the foundation of the government."

"To the Republican party was committed, in God's providence, the stupendous responsibility of preserving the integrity of the nation itself. We would not here kindle anew the fires of past hates or reopen the debate of long buried differences, which divided section against section, for we stand reunited under the acknowledged supremacy of one flag and one constitution. But we may appropriately recall the history of a great generation in which American contested with American for the triumph of opposing theories. In that contest the Republican party stood for the national solidarity. It stood for the nation above the state, and the victory it achieved blessed both the victor and the vanquished. American opposed American with titanic power. American met American upon the field of glory and the God of battles was with the cause espoused by the Republican party. The hates and the enmities which ignorance and false teaching engendered have happily perished and perished forever."

"The memory of the valor of those who fought for conscience sake beneath opposing flags remains as a rich national inheritance. The impartial verdict of history is that the Republican party was everlastingly right, and its further verdict is that no American ever surrendered his sword save to an American. Every grave, whether it is tenanted by the heroic youth who wore the blue, or by him who wore the gray, is an enduring pledge of the solidity and unity of the republic."

"Out of the unhappy divisions which followed quickly upon the accession to power of the Republican party, came a new national birth; a fusing of national strength beyond the dreams of our fathers."

Amidst Stirring Events.

"Fifty years is a brief period when compared with the life of the older nations, yet it embraces the entire life of the Republican party, a party whose achievements are among the most lasting and luminous of the deeds done by any party since the beginning of the government. It has not lived the life of repose and inactivity, for its career has been characterized by restless energy and serious work. Its lines have been cast amidst stirring events, when great problems were to be solved and mighty deeds were to be done. It has met upon a high level domestic questions of far-reaching significance, and it has increased our national prestige abroad. Our primacy among the nations of the world is generally acknowledged. It is a cause for congratulation to us that the orator of this historic occasion should be one who done more than any other to establish our prestige among foreign courts, the wise, able, modest, loyal, trusted friend of Abraham Lincoln, William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt—the Hon. John Hay."

"The span of the last fifty years is, indeed, the golden age of the republic."

During the greater part of this period the Republican party was in the ascendancy. Its principles and its policies were in full operation in its nation and our country advanced as never before. Its growth during the existence of the Republican party verges on the marvelous. While the tremendous progress that has been made cannot be ascribed, of course, entirely to the wisdom and beneficence of its policies, yet it has contributed immeasurably to the results which have been attained.

Human Liberty Extended.

"It has given security and protection to capital and labor. It has been the wise and loyal friend of each, for it has realized that our greatest development must come through their harmonious co-operation. It has inspired confidence among the people in the integrity and soundness of its administration, all of which is essential to the highest development and progress. No duty has been laid upon it, no matter how sudden or grave, but that it has met it wisely and bravely. It has never capitulated to mere expediency or made a truce with wrong. It has taken the moral side of every great question and has confidently trusted in the sober and ultimate judgment of the American people. It has taught the utility of the republic, the oneness of the American people, and their interdependency. It has stood against socialist teachings which would establish class distinctions, which are the very life of monarchical institutions and which are baneful to the republic."

"The country of fifty years ago stands in marked contrast to what we behold today. Then there were 32 states with some 25,000,000 of people, part slave and part free. Today we have 45 states, with 80,000,000 of free men. Then there was division among the states. Today there is unity of sentiment. Then there was slavery. Today it is dead and buried beyond the possibility of resurrection. The zone of human liberty has been extended beyond the limits of our borders by the valor of our arms, and established among alien peoples in the distant seas."

Worthy of Our Fathers.

"The progress of our people has been manifest in every avenue of human effort. It has been marked in art and science; in philanthropy and charity; in school and church; in industry and commerce. While we have developed in the material world beyond the most optimistic dreams of those who, fifty years ago, assembled here beneath the historic oaks, we have expanded in all of the higher and better qualities which excite the pride and admiration of the most advanced people."

"We stand at the morning of a new century which is to be greater than the past with all of its glorious achievement. It is a happy augury that we enter upon it with the Republican party in the ascendancy, under Republican policies which are suited to the largest national growth."

"The Republican party has given to history many statesmen of great eminence, whose names have become a part of the immeasurable glory of the republic. We will enter upon the half century which opens before us with such hopeful promise, under a brave, patriotic, wise American, whose ideals are in harmony with the best traditions of the republic, and whose ambition is to lead our countrymen and our country in the paths of peace, prosperity and honor—Theodore Roosevelt."

"Let us take hence new inspiration from this hallowed spot and prove ourselves worthy of the virtue and courage of our fathers."

Kidney Diseases Worst of All.

How to Cure These Dangerous and Fatal
 Maladies.

No one can afford to let a kidney disease continue unchecked a moment after he has discovered its presence. This is especially true of Bright's disease, the most dangerous and fatal of them all. The treacherous manner in which it attacks its victims enables it to become firmly established before its presence is discovered.
 Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure never fails, and is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestions, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust
 deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.
 "Your Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is a most excellent remedy as I know from my personal experience with it. I have had serious kidney and bladder trouble with considerable pain. This was a repetition of trouble a year back. I tried one bottle, and the relief was so great, I ordered two bottles of your express, and am glad to say that I am all right now and recommend this medicine fully to any one suffering with these difficulties."
 Truly yours, W. F. Black, Cleveland, O.

 conferred by good society. This resort is

A BOY'S MISTAKE

Thought His Sister Was a Burglar and Fired With Deadly Aim.

A SHOCKING TRAGEDY

Near Scottsburg Albert James Awakes
 With a Confused Notion of Burglars.

Saw the Form of His Sister In the Room and Fired Without Investigation.

Scottsburg, Ind., Aug. 9.—Albert James, mistaking his sister Myrtle for a burglar, shot and killed her. He is eighteen years old and she is sixteen.
 The parents, B. B. James and wife, were visiting in another county. They reside four miles southwest of town and the boy placed the gun near the bed before going to sleep. His sister started to leave the room. He awoke and in his fright thought her to be a robber.

NO PERMIT GRANTED

Dr. Hurty Lets Light in on Strawboard Situation.

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—According to Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, the board has not given to the American Strawboard works of Anderson permission to dump refuse into White river. The company's alleged pollution of the stream is now being investigated by a commission at Anderson.

Dr. Hurty admits that the company has some sort of a document that it says is a permit from the state board,
 but he says the permit was not granted by the county health officer of Madison county, the only person in Madison county authorized to act for the state board in such an emergency.
 He says the permit is from Dr. Hunt,
 the city health officer of Anderson,
 who, he says, has no authority to grant
 such permission.

Didn't Heed Their Jeers.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 9.—Waving
 two vials containing carbolic acid above his head and shouting "Good-by, boys; I am going down to Gaddy's woods to go to sleep, from which I will never wake," Noah Woolard, a despondent gambler, made good his threat. The companions to whom he shouted jeered him and questioned his gameness to take his life. An hour later he was found dead in the grove
 where he said he was going.

Old Soldiers Will Meet.

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—The annual encampment of the members of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland will be held in this city Sept. 20 and 21, the date being chosen for the reason that the battle of Chickamauga was fought on these dates. There are many Indiana members of the society,
 nearly half of all the Indiana regiments being assigned to the Army of the Cumberland after it was driven back to Louisville in 1862.

Fisherman's Serious Mishap.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 9.—As a result of being horned by a catfish which he had caught in White river, Charlie Pennington is in great agony. The horn of the fish penetrated Pennington's arm and he neglected the injury. Blood poisoning developed and it is said he can live but a few hours unless amputation of the arm gives him relief.

Knights Must Go Shaven.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 9.—Captain
 H. A. Pritchett of Company No. 3, which drills or the national prize at Louisville next week, has ordered all members of the company to be clean shaven for the encampment. Of the sixty-one members of the company eighteen must lose mustaches or not go to Louisville.

A Woman in the Case.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 9.—T. J. Johnson and John Ward, colored waiters employed at the Inn at Lake Wawasee, fought over a woman back of the hotel,
 Ward stabbing Johnson over the heart
 with a pocketknife. Johnson is expected to die. Ward was captured by a posse and taken to the jail at Wawasee.

Balloonist Breaks Neck.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 9.—Lee Warren, twenty-two, an aeronaut who gave an exhibition at Easton park, was unable to cut loose from his balloon and met death by a fall of eighty feet to the earth. When about 100 feet from the earth the bag turned over, throwing Warren to the ground.

Caught in Hotel Fire.

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—Word has been received here that A. F. Hobbs of Muncie and his brother, A. W.
 Hobbs, formerly of Indianapolis, were burned to death Saturday night in a hotel fire in Gladden, Ia. The Indiana men were the only persons of the 300
 guests to meet death in the flames.

Caught at the Crossing.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 9.—Luther H.
 Rogers, fifty-seven years of age, was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train at Butler avenue and instantly killed. Rogers is said to have become confused when the train approached and stepped in front of it.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years; tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse.
 By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet.

A HINT TO CHEKIB

Secretary Hay Tells Turkish Representative What's What.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Secretary Hay has bluntly told Chekib Bey, the Turkish charge here, that the patience of the American government is well nigh exhausted. The charge is expected to communicate this information to his home government speedily. There appeared to be an impression in the mind of the Turkish statesman that because the president of the United States could not make war without the consent of congress he thereby was es-topped from indulging in a naval demonstration to forward his purpose to secure fair treatment for the Americans in Turkey. It is believed that on this point also the Turkish minister was enlightened by Secretary Hay.
 When Chekib Bey left the state department he evidently was in a state of concern over what he had heard.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema, and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has cured numerous worthless

Prominent Democrat Bolts.

W. S. Armstrong, former mayor and postmaster of Kokomo, has created a sensation in political circles there by deserting the Democratic party and pronouncing for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

For more than forty years Mr. Armstrong has been the recognized leader of Howard county Democracy. He will take the stump for the Republican ticket. Scores of other Democrats there will vote the Republican ticket
 this fall. In a public statement Mr.
 Armstrong said: "Parker is tied to Wall street and the trusts and is against the masses. No true Democrat can vote for such a man."

Mr. Hanly and Labor.

"Investigation is quite sufficient to prove the truth of the assertion that Mr. Hanly, private and publicly, has always been an earnest friend of labor, and there is not an iota of evidence to the contrary, notwithstanding the industrious efforts of self-perpetuating Democratic politicians masquerading as labor leaders who have resorted to all manner of questionable schemes to discredit Mr.
 Hanly's candidacy in the estimation of organized workmen."—Lafayette Courier.

Won't Stand for Parker.

D. A. Wood of Kokomo is the second prominent Democrat of Howard county to come out for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. Mr. Wood declares that he will vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom this fall. He has stumped the state for the Democrats in every campaign in the last twenty years. The turning down of Bryan at the St. Louis convention by the corporate interests behind Parker's candidacy are responsible for his defection.
